"The day is passing when a few old moss backs' shall, by their objections, keep pictures of this kind out of our associations and churches. Our young people must be educated along these lines, and Damaged Goods is one of the best things for them to see I know of. I heartilly recommend this picture to our Young Men's Christian Associations everywhere."—From H. M. Spaulding, general secretary of the Alton, Ill., Y. M. C. A.

"The sooner the community comes to realize the dangers that threaten the home, the unborn child and the race through unregulated or ill-regulated marriages, the sooner will a remedy be applied."—Dr. W. C. Woodward health officer, D. C.

May Robson Coming to the Davis So many laughs are compressed in-to the three nots of The Maning Over of Mrs. Mart that it is admost one continuous gale that nightly greets May Robson and her company of play-ers and their cheery company. It is wholesome and the best sort of a tonic for that they fasting. Philipseum wholesome and the best sort of a tonic for that tired feeling. Built around the gusty and explosively comic personality of Miss Robson the play has plenty of dash. Poor Mrs. Matt is trying to live up to her husband's fortune and social ambitions, when at heart she is just a natural, big hearted woman from Omaha. But she has put herself unreservedly in the bands of a New York maid and is bravely suffering the consequences. Her toriures include a revision downward by the diet and exercise route, and a sand papering of the westerner. A son, who has left college and is teking his irst look at life, will supply the heart interest for Mrs. Matt; and a sweet, young Eirl, of whom the father dispresses, will furnish the heart interest for the son. The story reaches home and will be told in the clever dialogue that James Forbes has provided. Mrs. Matt is adjusting herself to her new frandeur and confides in her maid that I was difficult to pick out the furnishers. grandeur and confides in her maid that t was difficult to pick out the furnisure—there were so many Louis' to shoose from. One of the Louis took to religion and the other to furnisure. Her bedroom is furnished in one of these, and she says, "I often wonder what Louis would think of my Omaha underwear." She says she likes he library because the bindings are to chearful. Miss Robson always raliates good cheer, good fun and her pathos will always be found very real, in the course of her transformation, the promises to wear some handsome rowns to demonstrate the fine feathers

To Put On Flesh And Increase Weight

Most people eat from four to six pounds of good soild fat-making food every day and still do not increase in weight one cance, while on the other hand many of the plump chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all hosh to say that this is the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

the Individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

Most thin people stay thin because their powers of essimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffing wen't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay those in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body-something too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition it is well to recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not as some believe, a patented drug, but is simply a careful combination of six of the most effective and powerful assimilative and flesh building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet has been wonderfully effective and a single tablet eater with each meal offen, according to reports of users, has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds or woman from three to five pounds. The management of the Roof Garden have announced a special attraction for this week Wednesday night when Mr. Lawrence McArthur of New York city will sing, "I Want to Dance," New York's latest and greatest song and dance hit as well as several othsonal health."—Child Hygiene committee, Mothers' Congress.

"The play clearly pontrays the ravages and influences of drended discases and shows the great need for serious work to be done for its prevention."—Rev. Earle Wilfley.

"I would wish to take a soung boy and girl of mine to see this play—Damaged Goods. If they could get harm out of it, I confess I do not understand how. It puts the hornible truth in so living a way, with such clean, artistic force, that the mind is impressed as it could possibly be impressed in no other memor."—Editorial, Heirer's Marawise.

Should Sloan's Liniment Go Along? Of course it should? For after a strenuous day when your muscles have been exercised to the limit an application of Sloan's Liniment will take the soreness and stiffness away and get you in fine shape for the morrow. You should also use it for a sudden attack of toothache, stiff back, backache, stings, bites and the many accidents that are incidental to a va-cation.
